DOUBTFUL DOLPHIN.

ROACH'S RAFT RETARDED BY AN ALLEGED CRANK'S CRANKY PIN.

The Dispatch Boat Didn't Sport to Suit the Government's Crew-Capt. Couch and the Oklahoma Boomers Waiting--The Northwest War.

New York, May 14.—The new dispatch boat Dolphin, which the government declined to take off John Roach's hands, made another failure in her second attempt to demonstrate that she can do what the contract for her construction calls for—show 2,000 collective indicated horse power for six consecutive hours.

Chief Engineers, Kiersey, and Thomson and Zier, of the Navy, also present for duty in assisting each board to find out how much power the engines developed.

From execution the boat was started off at full speed. She flew along for an hour. The guests and members of the board were getting more and more impatient.

It would only take a short time to repair the damage. The Dolphin had been running just one hour and was out of quarters.

COUCH'S CHATTER.

What the Oklahoma Boomer has to say about the Dolphin. Kansas City, Mo., May 14.—Capt. W. L. Couch, the Oklahoma leader, spent the day in this city with the widow of the late Capt. Grayson, who came here to look after insurance matters, returning to Caldwell in the evening where the colony is camped.

Speaking of the condition of the colony he said it was numbered about two hundred men, the rest having returned to their homes to await the action of the president.

"Certain parties in 'in' order to make capital out of our conservatism, said that we had disbanded. This is not the case. The colonists, relying upon the good faith of the administration, have gone home to await the result of the negotiations to be held with the Indians. They are prepared to assemble at a moment's notice."

REBELS ROUTED

Another Victory for Middleton and the Government's Forces.

CLARK'S CROSSING, May 14.—Rebels have fallen. The rebels have fled, being driven from the rifle pits and their ambush at the point of the crossing. The rebels were routed by the Grenadiers. Rebel sent a messenger to Middleton early in the day saying: "If you persist in firing upon the thousands of our women and children, we will massacre the prisoners in our hands."

VARNA, May 14.—It is not often one can get Turkey to talk politics. They know not where their observations may be carried, and, mindful of the proverb about silence being golden, nothing more than "I know not" or "Yes" or "No" can be got from them in answer to an inquiry about the prospects of war or an Anglo-Turkish alliance.

A SAD SUICIDE.

Mrs. Ada Pershing, of Pittsburgh, shoots herself on Account of Her Husband. PITTSBURGH, May 14.—The suicide of Mrs. Ada Pershing, a lovely bride of six weeks, and the wife of the son-in-law of the president of the United States, has created the greatest sensation of the year.

"DARLING WILL: To-day is my eighteenth birthday; to-day I die. You deserted me. I cannot live without you. I forgive you."

CATTLE MEN'S WAR.

A Herd of 6,000 Head Forbidden Northward—Blooded Antagonism.

Anybody who has been in the country in receipt of information that 6,000 head of cattle purchased in South Texas by Abner Taylor & Co., and now on route to the Dallas country, will be stopped at Harrold, Wichita county, by North Texas Rangers, and forbidden to proceed further.

DESPERADOES AT WORK.

They Kill a Sheriff and Wound a Farmer.

BONHAM, Tex., May 14.—Sheriff Ragsdale, of this, Fannin county, was killed at a point nine miles south of here while attempting to arrest Sam and Eli Dyer and other desperadoes.

The sheriff, accompanied by a posse of forty citizens, had traced the desperadoes to a point near here. While the main body remained behind, the sheriff and a farmer named Buchanan approached the but and summoned the desperadoes. He was answered with a volley from the desperadoes' Winchester rifles. Sheriff Ragsdale was killed and Buchanan seriously injured.

Little Rock, Ark., May 14.—The interest in the celebrated trial of Mose Harris against the people of Hot Springs, which subsided after the small damages given on Friday last, was revived by the plaintiff. His attorneys filed the following motion in court:

"In the circuit court of the United States for the Eastern district of Arkansas, M. C. Harris vs. the people of Hot Springs. The case is now on for a new trial and in aid of the following reasons:

"Because the verdict is against the evidence and against the weight of the evidence. "Because the verdict is against the law and contrary to the rulings of the court."

An Inmate Mother's Act.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 14.—Mrs. Hiram Pugh, residing near Little, left her home taking her five children with her. She stated that she was going for flowers, but proceeded at once to Little creek, about a half mile from home. She fired and killed down three of the children by throwing them into the creek, which is very deep at this point. The little ones were rescued by the oldest boy, who is but twelve years of age. The mother then sent the boy home with two children and while he was gone she jumped into the creek with the two youngest. All were drowned and the bodies recovered. The woman has been of unsound mind for some years.

Crossing the Caspian he caught a train one hour after his arrival on the western shore, and reached Tiflis after a railway journey of twenty-seven hours. He received every attention and facility from the Russian officials. The governor of Tiflis rendered him the greatest assistance, arranging by telegraph for relays of horses along the route. Mr. Stephen Denison, the British agent at Tiflis, caused the retirement of the British force to Tiflis. He says that Sir Peter Lumsden's staff made arrangements a long time previously to fix his camp at Tiflis.

Supreme Italy.

ROME, May 14.—The pope received the bishop of Erie.

The Tribune asserts that before the vote of confidence in the government was passed in the chamber of deputies Prime Minister Depretis made it understood to the deputies that Sir Peter Lumsden would not hold the foreign portfolio. The Tribune adds that Depretis will take the post of foreign minister, and that he will give the home office to Signor Tassinari.

Knights of Honor.

The Thirteenth Annual Convention of the Supreme Lodge. ST. LOUIS, May 14.—The thirteenth annual convention of the supreme lodge of the Knights of Honor, which is being held in this city, Supreme Director General F. D. Stott, of New Haven, Conn., presiding, thirty-two states, represented by 112 delegates, who in turn represent 130,000 members of 2,535 subordinate lodges, were present. At Mercantile lodge hall the twenty-nine lodge officers and their 3,900 members tendered the supreme lodge a reception. Mayor Francis and Judge McKenney, Judge William H. Hunt, and others were present.

Resolutions were made by Gen. Stott and Maj. L. A. Gratz, of Knoxville, Tenn., supreme vice dictator. The first lodge of the knights of honor, which was organized at Louisville, Ky., in 1872 by J. F. Donnan, is a benevolent organization as well as fraternal. Its members are required to give not less than eight dollars a year. This gives $2,000,000.

French Affairs.

PARIS, May 14.—A dispatch from Hanoi states that the victory of Yunnan promises a complete evacuation of the province by June 6. Gen. Nogier has sufficiently recovered from his wound to assume command, which he will do forthwith.

A dispatch from Tientsin states that M. Patout, the French minister, has open discussions with Li Hung Chang on the draft of a new treaty of peace. It is probable that the treaty will be finished by the end of this month for the signature on the Southwest coast of the Red Sea and the great island of Sumatra.

The Suez canal commission had two postponed sessions, but failed to arrive at a decision. An anti-French vote was taken. It is stated that all the other powers now object to the English scheme for this management of the canal.

It is reported that M. Jules Ferry, the late French premier, has obtained a secret interview with the pope, and has promised, in return for the support of the pope in the coming elections, to strengthen the concordat if he shall be restored to power. Cardinal Casati, who was a friend of M. Ferry, urged the pope to assent to such an agreement.

Cardinal Casati has the ear of the pope, and it is expected that he will replace Cardinal Jacobini, the papal legate of state, whose retention in office will be impossible, as he is becoming completely deaf.

Cunningham and Burton.

LONDON, May 14.—The trial of Cunningham and Burton, the alleged dynamiter, continues to attract the public interest. The trial room was again packed with people when the case opened. The taking of evidence for the crown was resumed. After an examination of the evidence by the jury, the attorney general asked that the statements made by Burton to Constable Jarvis at the time of his arrest be admitted as evidence. To the admission of these statements Burton's counsel strenuously objected, but the court decided they were admissible.

That Name, Sad Story.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 14.—A freight conductor on the Burlington and Missouri railway, living at R and Eighth streets, went to his house and found Ed. Long, a lodger in the house, and a servant man in the Burlington yard in a room with Mrs. Johnson. Long ran to his room upstairs. Johnson followed and shot Long twice fatally. Long's wife and his wife returned the fire, a bullet striking Johnson in the region of the heart. Johnson died in half an hour. Johnson and his wife had trouble and were about to separate. Long had been her paramour for some time and they were infatuated with each other. Johnson went to the house expecting to find Long and his wife together, and with the intention of killing him.

Another Canal Mystery.

CINCINNATI, May 14.—Officer Ruesman and Private Wachman, Harris' one-time associates, were yesterday taken to the canal by loud voices and a female scream. They arrived in time to see a colored woman driven from the canal by a couple of men and hurriedly removed before the officers could stop them. The supposition is the men threw her over to bring her into subjection.

A Hotel Drummer's Verdict.

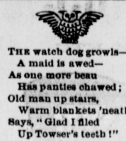

LONGVIEW, Tex., May 14.—At the term of the Gregg county court, the jury rendered verdicts were given against the Texas and Pacific railway company. In one instance a hotel drummer was forced to keep his seat on a train, his drumming being prohibited by the conductor. No unnecessary violence was used, yet he got a verdict for $750 damages. All the cases are appealed.

Harbored Wire Decision.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 14.—The court has affirmed the validity of the Illinois harbor wire patents in the case of Washburn, Moen & Co., against the Iowa farmers' protective association. Judge John M. Harris, one of the licensed farmers' agents, says the decision has the effect of leaving the protective association only one patent to do business on.

It should be borne in mind that at the August election, a vote will be taken on the subject of calling a convention to reverse the constitution of the State. It is conceded by the intelligent masses of both parties in Kentucky that such a revision is now necessary.

This Carlisle Mercury says: Dr. C. S. Holton, of Mason County, has located in Richmond, Ky., for the practice of his profession, and these few lines are written to commend our young friend to the good people of Madison as every way worthy of their confidence and support.

In the Circuit Court Wednesday John Osborne recovered a judgment of $500 against the Farmers Home Mutual Aid Society. The society is better known as the Farmers Insurance Company. George W. Bennett recovered a judgment against the same society for $200. The suits were on certificates of insurance on buildings situated in Dover that were destroyed by a wind storm, during the flood of 1884.

Programme for To-day's Meetings.
Rev. George C. Needham will give a Bible reading at the Presbyterian Church this afternoon from 3 to 4. At 4:15 he will speak to the young ladies of Mayville in the same place. He earnestly requests every young lady who can possibly come to be present. To-night the sermon at the opera house will be to young men. Mr. Needham is peculiarly happy in his talks to young men. He loves them and loves to talk to them. Let them all come.

A Great Meeting.

Nearly every chair in the opera house was filled last night to hear the gospel preached by brother Needham. The audience was larger than at any previous meeting. Some eight or ten ministers were seated upon the platform. Mr. Needham announced as his text Isa 1:18. "Though your sins be as scarlet they shall be white as snow, and though they be as crimson they shall be as wool." The preacher said that the two great subjects of sin and salvation were found in this text, and proceeded to contrast the two. "Sin," he said, "first degrades a man, and second petrifies, hardens him." His illustrations were very striking and beautiful. He told how the gospel took hold of the lowest and poorest sinner on earth and made them "children of a king." He said he had preached to all classes of men—from the thieves, convicts and harlots of the slums of London, up to royalty—and he thanked God he could say to all that this gospel could save them. At the close of the earnest and powerful sermon Mr. Needham requested the audience to bow their heads in silent prayer, and the great congregation became as silent as death, while Mr. Avis sang softly, "Almost Persuaded." Immediately at the close the invitation was given for all who desired to go to the Methodist church adjoining, and in a few minutes the large audience room was packed. Several hymns were sung and Dr. James P. Hendrick, of Flemingsburg, made an earnest appeal to the unconverted, after which many stood up for prayer. Mr. Needham then requested all who desired to find Christ to come forward, and ten or twelve persons came and bowed at the altar. It was nearly ten o'clock before the audience reluctantly left for their homes. It was the unanimous verdict that the meeting last night was the most impressive and solemn of the series. This afternoon Mr. Needham will give a Bible reading at the Presbyterian Church, between 3 and 4, and at 4:15 he will address the young ladies of the city. To-night, at the opera house, he will preach to young men.

Sale of Property.
The following property belonging to the estate of William Weedon, deceased, was sold publicly on Saturday:

Dwellings on the Point, between Limestone and Plum, to A. R. Glascock, for $200.
Vacant lot on Fourth st. between Market and Sutton, to G. C. Blackford, for $200. Other property advertised for sale was withdrawn.

The following belonging to the Watkins estate was sold on Saturday:
Mrs. Eliza J. Foster, for $1,000.
To name the Point, a half of two acres near Fifth Ward, for $500.
To name the Point, a half of thirteen acres near Fifth Ward, for $1,000.
To the Old Fellows, the house on Market street, now occupied by Thomas Lewis, fronting seventeen and one-half feet, for $200.

The store room, corner of Wall and Sutton streets, to R. A. Cochran, for $500.
Mr. John Duley, agent of sold on Monday, a lot fronting fifty feet on the south side of Third street, between Short and Lower, to F. D. Bendel, for $500.

A Costly Piece of Head-Gear.
The crown of England has twenty diamonds around its chief circle, about $150,000, and ever so many other diamonds and precious stones, the whole costing about $500,000 of our money. Some people think that Queen Victoria wears it every day, but she does not. "Uneasy sleeps the head that wears a crown." Brown's Iron Bitters costs but a dollar and brings sleep to the nervous, strength to the debilitated, and comfort to the rheumatic. Mrs. Wm. S. Lane, Frederica, Del., says, "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best remedy for lame back and liver complaint I ever used."

Dr. G. T. Gould has organized an independent church at Las Vegas, New Mexico, New Mexico, with the following brief creed:

OUR CREED.
The bible, which each must interpret for himself.
OUR OBJECT.
To make better men and women of ourselves.
OUR DUTIES:
To do all the good we can, and as little harm, both to ourselves and to our fellow men.
OUR MOTTO:
"Whatever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them."

Knights Templar.
The Sir Knights of Mayville Commandery No. 10, K. T., are requested to assemble at their asylum on Friday evening, May 15, at eight o'clock. Business of importance.

Glowing Description of a Trip Abroad.

(By a Kentuckian.)
I landed in Liverpool at night, went to bed, had a good rest, got up in the morning, found the bar, called for an American cocktail, got it, took one taste and—stunned me on the next afternoon. This country is good enough for me.

"Yes, indeed," he said to little Miss Muffet, one of the babies, and the son's rosebuds at the party the other night, "yes, indeed, I love Wagner's music; and if Damrosch gives us Die Meistersinger, Götterdämmerung, and more, I shall be delighted!" "Mercy!" she exclaimed, moving away from him in a startled way, you murdered me! And, when once at home, she went crying to her mother and said that horrid young Mr. Guy got drunk and swore right out loud at her!—[Exchequer.]

Portable electric lamps are coming into use. A primary battery is placed in the lamp standard, and the glow appears on a burner similar to that of oil lamps. The battery consists of a packet of chloride of silver, two thin zinc plates and a weak solution of caustic potash. This produces a light of twelve-candle power, and will burn for twenty-four hours, at the end of which time there is no waste of elements, but the chloride of silver becomes converted into silver and needs re-vivifying.—[Chicago Journal.]

How He Got His Title.
[Sittings.]
"Were you actively engaged in the late war?" asked a stranger in Austin of General Jeff. Blakeman.
"O, yes, I was very actively engaged in shipping cotton to Europe during the war."
"Then how did you come to be called General?"
"Well, you see, I made money during the war and afterwards the boys came home poor and wanted to borrow a little money, I generally loaned it to them, and that is how I came to be called General, and it has stuck to me ever since."

An English journal says: "Mrs. Bangs, a poor 'Monstrous Belle,' as she is called, was disguised under a French name in the programme, but every one knows what is coming, after Mrs. Bangs finally gets the prize moved into the right place, which is always just where it stood before she had it the first time; and after seating herself for the fiftieth time finally concludes to remain seated. Mrs. Bangs's unvarying habit of wearing her gloves at the piano, and occupying seven minutes in putting them on, is not an affectation." It is an act of meanness and gives the people nearest the door an opportunity to slip out before she begins to play. The reporters of the city press went to go out at this time, but since Bangs has taken to standing at the door to watch refugees they have, with excellent taste, better judgment, abandoned the custom and silently awaited their full cup of misery. As Mrs. Bangs left the stage, the warble, who was asleep in the gallery, fell off his chair, mistaking the noise for an encore, and, mistaking the noise for an encore, Mrs. Bangs returned and pounded out 'The Maiden's Prayer.' Somebody ought to kill that man Garbey."

Cure for Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, is produced, and the patient feels after getting warm, is a constant attendant. It is a disease of the rectum, and is cured by the application of Dr. Bosancho's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the inflammation, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address Dr. Bosancho, Medicine Co., Fiqua, O. Sold by Geo. T. Wood.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

LEADING ITEMS OF INTEREST AT THE GOVERNMENT SEAT.

Minister Cox Says He Will Steam and Not Sail for the Golden Horn—Agricultural Chat—Delegations—"Criminal Negligence"—News Notes.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Mr. Cox says he cannot prevent the appeals of his friends to remain at home, but he thinks he has tried the wine press of legislation long enough to deserve a little rest. When the delegations come to Washington he is going to refer them to the president for explanation of his course in selecting him as minister to Turkey. "I am not going to 'sail,'" said Mr. Cox to a friend. "I expect to 'steam' out of New York for the golden horn and get there in good time. I have been writing so much of late that my fingers are almost paralyzed. But I had a task to perform and have finished it."

"Do you think there will be much contest for the nomination in your district," was asked. "No; I think not. Some one of more than local celebrity will be nominated. Perhaps Mr. Potter; that is if there is any disagreement among the candidates."

The new commissioner of agriculture has established a bureau to be devoted to the investigation of all questions affecting dairy interests. It is said that his predecessor is the owner of one of the largest dairies in New England, and that the new commissioner also takes special interest in this branch of agriculture. Senator Plumb, of Kansas, says that when he heard that Mr. Coleman was appointed commissioner of agriculture he recalled the story told of a visitor to the new commissioner's farm. The guests were invited, after inspecting the short-horns, to partake of the hospitalities of the farmhouse. "Help yourselves, gentlemen," said Mr. Coleman. "Here is milk and here is whisky; each costs me about the same per gallon."

A delegation of Indianaans, headed by Senator Voorhees and including all the democratic representatives-elect in the city and a number of state officers of that state, waited on the president by request of the delegation and urged the appointment of Mr. Charles Derby of Evansville, to a foreign mission. As they left a delegation of Democrats from Maine had a pleasant talk with the president in regard to the federal offices in that state. They were unanimous that the republicans who have held offices so long in Maine should be relieved of that responsibility and that it should be placed on the democrats.

"Criminal Negligence."
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The more Representative Dick Townsend thinks about the turn in the senatorial situation in Illinois the more emphatic he expresses himself. "It's worse than a disgrace," he said, "it is criminal. There ought to be some law by which the democratic party managers in that district could be punished for criminal negligence. Yes, I think that Gen. Logan will be elected to the senate. There are some of his own party opposed to him, but the outcome will be his return to the senate. And, by the way, this is the second time that such a thing has occurred in that district, Springfield's district. The first was about thirty-five years ago. The democrats had the fun that time. They gave out that they would make no contest. The whigs let things slide along. On the eve of the election the democrats sprung a ticket, and, having caught the whigs napping, defeated them. But the democrats did not get their senator. Lyman Trumbull was chosen, he going in as an independent candidate."

Fortifications Board.
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The president appointed the following named gentlemen as the board on fortifications as authorized by an act of congress:

Hon. Wm. C. Endicott, secretary of war, president of the board; Brig. Gen. S. V. Benet, Brig. Gen. John Newton, Lieut. Col. H. L. Abbott, Capt. Charles S. Smith, Commander W. T. Lamson, Commander C. F. Goodrich, Mr. Joseph Morgan, Jr., of Pennsylvania; Mr. Erasmus Corning, of New York, as the board which is to examine and report at what ports the fortifications or other defenses are most urgently required.

Reducing Forces.
NEW YORK, May 14.—In accordance with instructions from Secretary Whitney, Chief Constructor Minfongue has discharged all the fourteen foremen in the construction department of the Brooklyn navy yard. Their places have not been filled.

Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Knott.
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The president did not receive many callers. About 4 o'clock he kept an appointment with Gov. Proctor Knott, of Kentucky. Gov. Knott spent the evening with the president.

Consul at Havre.
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The president has appointed Ferdinand F. Dufais, of New York, to be United States consul at Havre.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 14.—Nearly the entire business portion of Watcrna, on the line of the Nashville and Chattanooga railroad, was destroyed by fire. Ten business houses and their contents were burned. It is reported that two lives were lost in the fire. Loss fully $25,000.

CHICAGO, May 14.—The large brewery of M. Brand & Co., situated in Elston avenue, caught fire and was damaged to the extent of $100,000 before the flames were extinguished.

An Old Dago Dodge.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 14.—Frank Rotundo and Tony Muscarello, Italians, have been taken into the charge of obtaining money by false pretences. It is alleged that in collusion with George Albano, of Indianapolis, the prisoners collected 150 Italians in Chicago and offered them lucrative work on a railway, the positions to be given them upon the payment of $5,500 each. The squad of Italians went to the depot but were not able to find either of the prisoners.
